Resumption of Service Marked by Rioting in Troy—Strike Breaker May Die

Car Derailed and Wrecked, Wire Cut, Strike-Breakers Beaten

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Resumption of street car service by imported crews on the lines of the United Traction Co., in Albany and Troy today was accompanied by rioting in Troy where five strike breakers were injured, one perhaps fatally. Other than the throwing of a brick at a car and an attempt to tear down a wire, this city was quiet.

The trouble in Troy started when a repair wagon was uniting a trolley wire that had been cut by strike sympathizers. The strikers claimed to recognize one of the repairmen as a strike breaker who had told them that he deserted from the company's employ and had obtained money to pay his fare back to New York. A policeman who was asked to arrest the man as a swindler.

Was Convicted of Extortion From Builders—Friends Cheer Him

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades Council, convicted of extortion from builders, was sentenced today by Supreme Court Justice McAvoy, to serve from five to ten years in state prison.

His counsel announced that an appeal would be taken.

Brindell who is one of the highest paid labor leaders in the United States, was convicted on evidence unearthed by the Lockwood legislative committee in its investigation of the building trades.

Hundreds of his friends gave him a demonstration as he was led from the criminal courts building across the Bridge of Signs to the Tombs. Somebody mentioned the name of Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for the prosecution, and there was a storm of hisses.

Prevents Clashes at Hearing on Granting of License for Packing House

Large Crowd Hears Objections to Proposed Plant by Many Opponents

Thomas H. Braden Picked as Election Commissioner After Close of Hearing

Only a tight rein, held by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, prevented the hearing on the granting of a license to Bartholomew Seannell for a license to operate the Harvard company plant as a packing house, from becoming a lively exposition of the power of oratory and debate possessed by some of the members of the crowd of several hundred persons gathered in the aldermanic chamber in city hall today. Both opponents and those in favor of granting the petition were well represented, although the former were more numerous.

A number of the speakers wished to interrogate members of the council as to their attitude regarding the matter, and it was charged that members were in a league with those behind the new industry to force it upon the city. The mayor properly sat upon. At the close of the hearing the council elected by a vote of four to one, Thomas H. Braden as an election commissioner for a four year term. The only vote adverse to Mr. Braden was cast by the mayor in favor of Abel R. Campbell.

James J. Kervin appeared for the petitioners and gave a detailed statement of what the new company proposes to do at the Harvard plant, and said that if at any time the place proved a nuisance its license would be revoked.

When objectors to the granting of the license were called upon to speak, John Gray, who said he lived within 50 feet of the plant, came to the front. He said if anyone attempted to establish a slaughter house within 50 feet of Mr. Kervin's house there would be a riot. He objected to the council taking part in promoting a real estate gamble. He denied that more than 300 or 400 men would be employed.

"I'll stop at nothing to stop that slaughter house," he said. "Why don't the men who are to operate this slaughter house come in here and make themselves known? They don't dare to—I know them. If the council grants the license I shall appeal to a higher power."

Wants Interests of the City Properly Protected in Kimball Company Case

Says No Municipal Body Can Legalize Payment of An Improper Bill

Delving deep into the lore of the ages, quoting freely from the Latin authors and the classics, reproducing learned citations of the law, City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy today sent a letter to the mayor refuting the charges made yesterday in an episode from City Solicitor Regan that Hennessy's grammar is not flawless, and that his legal knowledge is limited. The letter is part of a controversy that is going on between the auditor and solicitor over the payment of a bill for $6000 alleged to be due by the city to the Kimball company, of Boston, for work claimed to have been performed in connection with a contract for installing a heating plant in the new high school. The city solicitor claims that the high school commission has sole power to authorize payment of the bill. The auditor asserts that as the city of Lowell is named as defendant in a suit for the payment of the account, the matter is in the hands of the municipal council, and that neither the council nor the commission has the power to authorize the payment of an improper bill.

Following, in substance, is Mr. Hennessy's letter with some of the Latin phrases omitted.

Yours, with enclosure, of even date herewith, was duly received and in reply the city auditor desires to say that he is thankful for the prompt transmission of the very illuminating dissertation upon municipal law, legal procedure, legal municipal conduct and various other things contained in the letter of Your Honor, from the very learned city solicitor.

The contents of the letter are truly no cause for surprise to the city auditor since he is assured that the copious words have dropped from the dauntless lips of the putative head of the law department of the city of Lowell, who seems to have regaled himself in the exuberance of him, who says: "I am Sir Oracle, and when I open my mouth let no dog bark."

Yet, without, it seems to me, that there is contained among the various things recited in the incongruous document, the pronouncement of a very

WILLIAM D. REGAN,
City Solicitor"HIPPER" SAID HE WAS PAID $25 A WEEK

A new type of assault on prohibition was revealed in the police court this morning, when Officers Kivian and O'Sullivan of the liquor squad testified in the case of Oliver Pentte and Charles Pettier, charged with unlawful sale of liquor at 28 Alken street—soft drink establishment. Pettier, proprietor of the place, drew a $150 fine, while Pentte was given one of $100. Both pleaded guilty.

The officers testified that after watching the resort it was found that Pentte carried the booze on his hip, and that when a customer arrived he produced the bottle and poured the drink while Pettier collected the stipend. The bottle, after the drink was served, returned to Pentte's pocket. This method left the establishment safe in the event of a search.

Officer Kivian stated that after observation had solved this rather ingenious system, he approached Pentte and asked him to come across. Pentte immediately disgorged the bottle. He was totting, which proved to contain Canadian high wine.

It was admitted by Pentte that Pettier had paid him $25 per week to enact the role of "hipper."

ARLINGTON, VI. Feb. 8.—A tar and feathers party conducted by citizens of this New England rural community because of a man's alleged friendliness with the wife of another, is described in a suit just filed in Windsor county court. Bernard W. Field, who left the town recently and went to Chester, says he was the victim of the public punishment which, he says, was administered by 25 men who waylaid him on the road outside the town on the evening of Jan. 26, took him into a field and partly stripped him, then daubed him with tar and rubbed in feathers, making his skin and hair a tangled mass. Field names six men in his suit by which he seeks to obtain $20,000 damages. The men have been served with papers and have given bond.

MAY RENDER "REQUIEM" AT DEDICATION

That a rendering of Verdi's "Requiem" shall be a part of the dedication exercises of the new Administration was suggested in a letter received from Arthur C. Spaulding, president of the Lowell Choral Society, at a meeting of the Memorial building commission held in city hall yesterday. Mayor Perry D. Thompson, C. H. Nelson and Secretary Arthur C. Spaulding were present at the meeting. Mr. Spaulding said that the society would be glad to undertake to render the "Requiem" if it could be guaranteed against a financial loss. He also stated that if the offer were accepted it would be desirable to begin preparations this spring.

ORDERS ARREST OF UNION OFFICIALS

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 8.—District Judge Curran yesterday issued attachment for the immediate arrest of Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas coal miners, and for all the members of the district executive board of the union.

The order for the arrest of the union officials was made on application of State Atty. Gen. Franklin.

Howat was arrested late yesterday and immediately taken into the district courtroom and arraigned before Judge Curran. He admitted he had called the strike.

"Whether it is a violation of the court order is for the court to say," Howat added.

Vice President Dorothy, brought into court with Howat, simply said "I am guilty."

Willard Titus, a board member, also was held before the judge. Cases against other board members were dismissed.

Howat, Dorothy and Titus were then released on their own recognizance and ordered to appear in court this afternoon.

Judge Curran set 1:30 o'clock this afternoon as the hour for the three to file a written answer. If they desired, the court action is the result of a strike in two mines of the Pittsburgh field, which resulted from a controversy of the Miners' union with the nine owners over the age of a miner.

The attorney general contended that the strike was in violation of the injunction issued last summer by Judge Curran, and that therefore the miners' officials were in contempt of court. It was asserted that the calling of the strike was in the nature of a test of strength between the Howat forces and the Kansas industrial court.

Lowell Woman Was So Run Down She Had to Give Up All Idea of Work—Tanlac Again Proves Merit

"I now know for myself that Tanlac is wonderful for I have tried it and it has made me feel just like a new person," said Mrs. E. L. Higgins, 22 Lorraine street, Lowell.

"For the past year I have been in a badly rundown condition. My appetite left me and my stomach was so bad I could scarcely retain anything. I would blow up terribly and have such bad spells of heart palpitation. I couldn't walk up a flight of stairs without being out of breath. I was so nervous I scarcely slept any and the next noise completely upset me. I suffered so with dizziness I couldn't stoop to pick up anything without fainting over. I had almost constant headaches, and the pains in my back, shoulders and sides almost drove me out all the time. In spite of all I could do I kept getting worse and got to where I had to give up all idea of work.

"My sister-in-law in Manchester, who had been relieved of the same kind of troubles by Tanlac, advised me to try it. Well, I have just finished my fourth bottle now and my appetite is splendid. I eat everything I want and it does not hurt me one bit. All my pains are gone, my nerves are perfectly calm and I sleep like a child and actually believe I feel better than I did before my troubles started. Tanlac is certainly wonderful medicine."

PUTS COST OF WAR AT GERMAN STATES UNITE IN REJECTING TERMS

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8.—Total costs of the world war were declared to be more than $348,000,000,000 by Dr. Richard P. Strong, professor of tropical medicine, at the Harvard Medical school, in a lecture yesterday afternoon at Johns Hopkins university.

This total, Dr. Strong said, includes estimates of the direct costs of the war, amounting to $156,000,000,000; the indirect costs aggregating $51,000,000,000; and the cost of lives lost estimated at $78,000,000,000.

The actual potential loss of life due to the war was placed at 43,000,000 lives. The great majority of those who died, he said, were males between the ages of 22 and 44, and as a result of this the women of France in this age far outnumber the men.

It will take France 70 years to recover the loss in population which that country suffered, he declared.

DOLLAR DAY IS COMING—See Friday's Sun and Citizen for special dollar items. Visit this Bigger and Better Store and see how far your dollars will go here.

"DOLLAR DAY" TO SAVE CASH FOR BUYERS

Poor Richard, who was a wise man and philosopher of Massachusetts birth, coined many maxims of economy. The truth of one of them—that a dollar saved is a dollar earned—“the people of Lowell are to have an exceptional opportunity to demonstrate next Saturday.

It is to be Dollar day, and the stores that carry the official signs of the day in their show windows are to enter into a marathon race in price-cutting. Such a carnival of value giving, it is promised, as has never been seen in this part of the country is to feature the occasion.

Every merchant is out to see how far he can outdo his neighbors in selling merchandise at prices that are likely to be long remembered in the business annals of Lowell.

Not only are the merchants to try to outdo each other in giving more for a dollar than had ever been given before, but they have prepared to have their stocks unusually full and attractive. Such an influx of buyers is expected, however, that the warning is issued that shopping should begin early, as with the crowds that are expected early the latest stocks may become depleted late in the day.

The merchants, too, are preparing to have their stores wear their prettiest aspect, and a visit to them just for the sake of seeing the attractive displays will be well worth while.

TO GIVE CHANCE, BUT NOT CHARITY

“Not charity but a chance,” is the motto of the Lowell Good Will Industries, that is undertaking a work of philanthropy for the people of the city in the Brookline street settlement house. The work is associated with that being done in numerous other cities by the Morgan Memorial in Boston. The starting of the work is due to the efforts of the Central Methodist Episcopal church.

The organization is soon to place a room in the homes of the city in which can be placed the many articles that commonly go into the garbage or waste heap, out of these the industries will manufacture many articles of value.

BODY AGAIN EXHUMED

Widow Believes Richard S. Lawrence, Former Political Leader, Victim of Foul Play

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—The body of Richard Scott Lawrence, former Denver political leader and later a resident of Madison, who is said to have been killed by a train on March 21, 1918, has been exhumed for the fourth time under the direction of Coroner Campbell. At the medical laboratory of the University of Wisconsin, a pathological examination was begun today.

The examination is the first step in an investigation being conducted by District Attorney S. G. Lewis, in response to allegations of the widow, Mrs. Rachel Lawrence, who declares that her husband was not killed by a train but that his body was substituted in the vault at the cemetery for the mangled remains of an unidentified man who was presumed to be her husband at the burial.

She says that her husband was wealthy and intimates that his money was used to bribe the jury that returned a verdict of accidental death. She also says that her husband was carrying a collection of diamonds worth many thousands of dollars, and these were missing when his body was buried.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

No Legislation As Result of Lowell Fire Hazard Investigation

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Feb. 8.—No legislation is to result from the recent investigation by State Fire Marshal George C. Neal, of fire hazards in Lowell, and his recommendation that he be authorized to require sprinklers installed in Lowell and in other large cities of the commonwealth.

The committee on cities has decided that it had no authority under the legislative rules, to consider Marshal Neal's sprinkler bill, and consequently it made a report that no legislation was necessary on his report.

Yesterday the democratic forces in the legislature won a notable victory in the house, in the first real contest of the legislative session. They succeeded in overturning a report of the committee on labor and industry against a bill providing that employees of hotels and restaurants shall be allowed one day off in each week.

The committee had reported that the petitioner for the legislation, the state branch of the American Federation of Labor, should be given leave to withdraw it. The lone democratic member of the committee, Rep. Charles A. Kelley of Worcester, dissented from the report, and with the aid of Rep. Harrington of Fall River, the democratic floor leader, succeeded in overturning it by a vote of 79 to 75. The regular organization was unable even to get a roll-call on the measure.

MT. MONADNOCK

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Half frozen and lost on Mt. Monadnock, N. H., 18-year-old Karl H. Robinson of Attleboro, a freshman at Boston University, rescued his chum and classmate, Rupert Robinson of Keene, N. H., five miles down the mountain, and through the forest after the latter had fallen on ice-covered rocks near the top of the mountain, receiving contusions of the head which made him unconscious.

The story of the rescue, which came as the climax of a week-end ascent of the forbidding Monadnock, became known when the two students returned to Boston university yesterday.

Although of the same surname the boys are not related. Karl was Rupert's guest at the Robinson home in Keene for the week-end.

The fall came as the climax of an exciting climb. Once during the ascent the pair slipped and slid to within three feet of a 75-foot precipice. A few hundred yards from the summit, Rupert fell on the glazed rocks and was knocked senseless. His companion made fruitless efforts to bring him back to consciousness.

"The descent of the dome was made slowly," said Karl Robinson yesterday. "Much time was lost and it was nearly dark when I approached the wooded portion at the base of which I expected to find the road."

Unfamiliar with the territory, he lost his sense of direction, however, and wandered through the snowy forest for miles carrying the still unconscious Rupert. He was finally led in the direction of the road by hearing the barking of a dog in response to shots from his automobile.

Passing automobiles soon picked the two up and Rupert, delirious and muttering, was hurried to medical assistance in Fitzwilliam. Later they were carried to the Robinson home in Keene, where the injured man came to himself the next day, after his mind had been a blank for 36 hours.

Karl H. Robinson was graduated from Attleboro high school last June. In July he attempted to climb Gray's Peak on Mount's Vineyard, and found himself unable either to advance or withdraw after getting two-thirds of the way up. He was rescued by coast guardsmen.

Rupert Robinson had a narrow escape last summer when an airplane in which he was a passenger crashed to earth, severely injuring the pilot.

LONG-HATED DISHRAG
BANISHED SOON

For the woman who has been casting longing eyes on an electric dish-washer, Uncle Sam's latest influenza survey furnishes bolstering arguments.

The influenza case rate for a group eating from plates and table cutlery washed by hand was 231 cases per 1000 inmates as compared with 105 cases per 1000 inmates from that group eating from dishes washed by a machine.

In view of the figures it would seem that the time of woman's emancipation from doing the dishes might be close at hand.

BASKET AND ENTERTAINMENT

Lowell local, 8 International Brotherhood of Telephone Workers, held their annual banquet and entertainment at their rooms in Lincoln hall building last night. The value of the organization and co-operation was the subject touched upon by several prominent officers of the brotherhood. The business meeting was conducted by Joseph T. McGill, after which the meeting was turned over to the visiting officers. Caterer M. A. Loden served a hot chicken pie supper. Entertainment was furnished by J. J. Murray, soloist, and George Kelly, pianist. The following officers of the International addressed the meeting: President, J. J. Dolan of Boston; Vice-President, L. H. Morley of Worcester; Secretary, George L. Kelley of Boston and Treasurer Timothy H. Murphy of Boston.

MILK DANCING PARTY

United States ordinance office employees, connected with the United States Cartridge plant in Lawrence street were the sponsors of a dancing party held in Lincoln hall last night. The ordinance employees, in charge of the dance were: J. K. Tilley, chairman, C. L. Drayton, H. H. G. Allen, Mrs. J. J. McCann, Miss A. May Thayer, Miss Margaret H. Deane, Miss Robertson, J. L. STILL SWINGING AXE

Cong. McClintic Keeps Unspoken Speeches Out of Congressional Record

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Representative McClintic of Oklahoma, continues to keep speeches which were never made in the house out of the Congressional Record. It used to be the custom with members given as little as 30 seconds to speak to put papers into the record, but that was before McClintic began to handle the axe. An epidemic of unspoken speeches always came during consideration of measures with a popular appeal—the soldier bonus, for example. But nowadays nobody can break through when McClintic is around.

When the Oklahoma member concluded a brief speech yesterday on the soldier hospital bill, Representative Snell of New York arose.

"I ask unanimous consent," he said, "that the gentleman from Oklahoma be permitted to revise and extend his remarks."

"I object," said McClintic, and the house roared.

IRISH FUND PASSES

THE $3000 MARK

Already the relief fund for Ireland started in Associated hall Sunday night by Humphrey O'Sullivan, chairman of the meeting held there, has reached the goodly sum of $3000. Because of urgent appeals from numerous government officials in Ireland for immediate relief or financial assistance, this amount will be sent separately through J. H. O'Neil, of the Federal Trust company, Boston, and Thomas O'Brien, of the American committee on Irish relief.

Thomas Mooney was among the first contributors to the fund in Associated hall Sunday night. He pledged $50, but his name was inadvertently omitted from the list made out by the officers. The contributions received yesterday by Michael J. Sharkey were $25, Minnie A. Clancy, $25 James Baxter, and $10, William O'Callaghan.

The following contributions were received today:

Mary O'Hara	$25
P. J. Morris	10
A. J. O'Brien	10
John J. Brady	10
Patrick M. Flanagan	10
Jarvis Piffly	10
Martin H. Rice	10
Neill O'Hearn	10
George H. Faulkner	10

Contributions may be left with the Lowell Trust Co., the Middlesex Trust company, James O'Sullivan, Stephen Flynn, or Michael Sharkey, but all checks must be made payable to Michael Sharkey.

HARDING ON LAST LEG OF VACATION TOUR

DAYTONA, Fla., Feb. 8.—President-elect Harding spent today playing golf and receiving old acquaintances in Daytona. Seaside and Orlando, where he waited for the houseboat, Victoria to take them aboard here for the last leg of his vacation cruise along the Florida coast. He already is two days overdue at St. Augustine, which will be his headquarters the rest of the month.

The houseboat is expected to reach here late this afternoon, a tug having been sent to pull her out of the mud reef in Mosquito Lagoon below New Smyrna, where she stranded yesterday. This section of the Florida coast is an old stamping ground of the president-elect who for nearly 10 years has been an intermittent visitor to Florida during the winter months. Many of the winter residents are neighbors from Ohio.

LEGAL BATTLE TO FREE BERGDOLL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.—A legal battle to free Edwin R. Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia draft evader from the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth on a writ of habeas corpus, began today in federal court at Kansas City, Kan., before Judge John C. Pollock.

The case of Edwin Bergdoll, brother of Grover C. Bergdoll, who recently effected a sensational escape into Germany from the United States, is of wide importance, court officials said. The legal point raised is the right of a military court martial to detain a person who is not actually in the service.

About 50 similar cases are held in abeyance, pending the outcome of the Bergdoll case, it is said.

TO LICENSE BARBERS

Lowell Man Urges Board be Established for Examination and Registration

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Feb. 8.—Herbert W. Jordan, a Lowell barber, appeared before the committee on state administration at the state house yesterday and advocated legislation providing for the establishment of a board for the examination and registration of those who desire to engage in the business of barbering.

He declared that there are a large number of unsanitary barber shops in the commonwealth, and every one who goes into such shops "takes a chance" with his health. In his twenty years of experience, he said, he had seen an inspector in a barber shop only once. The bill under consideration provides that no one can become registered until after serving an apprenticeship of three years. Mr. Jordan thought this requirement a very essential one, stating that in some shops it is the practice to put an apprentice on a chair just as soon as he can wield a razor.

He was reminded that local boards of health at present have full control of barber shops, but insisted that their control is not adequate, and for that reason, he said, organized labor has been trying for seven or eight years to have this regulatory bill passed. He said Rhode Island and Connecticut now have such laws and they are working to the advantage of the public and of the barbers as well.

Says Mooney Case Frameup

Donald, now a resident of Trenton, N. J., declared in an affidavit covering 121 typewritten pages that the case against Mooney was a "frameup."

"McDonald swore in his confession," Mr. Walsh said, "that he could not identify Mooney as the man he had seen with a suit case prior to the preparedness day explosion, although he identified Mooney during the trial. He said District Attorney Fickert, the San Francisco prosecutor, had forced him to make the identification."

Walsh quoted McDonald as saying he stood in Stewart street, near the corner of Market in San Francisco at about 1 o'clock on the afternoon of July 22, 1916. He said he saw a man set a suit case on the sidewalk, then accompanied by another man, who came from a saloon, walk away. McDonald said that he then walked down Market street and in a short time heard an explosion. He thought it part of the preparedness day celebration. Next day he met a policeman named Hexton and told him what he had seen, but asserted he could not identify the man.

He was induced, Walsh quoted further, to go to police headquarters where he was questioned by District Attorney Fickert and Captain Mathison, and told him he did not know Mooney, who was suspected. He subsequently was taken to Mooney's cell and to that occupied by Billings, another defendant. McDonald asserted, according to Walsh, that Fickert remarked "These are the men you saw."

Further McDonald is alleged to have stated he was coerced with other witnesses in testimony to be given. He asserted he fixed the time of seeing the suitcase dropped at 1:30 o'clock in Billings' trial. In the Mooney trial, he stated that at the instance of Assistant District Attorney Edward Cunha, he changed the time to 1:30 o'clock in order to break Mooney's alibi.

PROF. BARRETT WENDELL OF HARVARD DEAD

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Barrett Wendell, professor emeritus of Harvard university where he had taught English literature for 37 years, died at his home here today. Death was due to anæmia and followed an illness of several weeks. He was 66 years of age.

Prof. Wendell was known as a teacher by thousands of Harvard men and as a scholar by educators who had adopted in whole or part his pioneer methods of popularizing the study of literature. The alumni last June elected him a member of the board of overseers of Harvard. He retired from active teaching in 1917.

His standing as a scholar was international and in 1904-5, he lectured at Cambridge university, England, and at the Sorbonne and other French universities. Following this visit, he wrote the book "The France of Today." Last year he was given the degree of LL. D. by Strasbourg university. He had previously been given the degree of Litt. D. by Columbia and Harvard.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1877 in the class with President A. Lawrence Lowell. He began his teaching in 1880 and continued it until his retirement. His course in "Temp and Lit." developing from one of pure literary scholarship to a course that was always crowded. He wrote several books.

MILLIONS VOTED FOR SOLDIERS MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Called up under suspension of rules, a proposition which required a two-thirds vote on passage, the $12,000,000 Soldiers' hospital bill was passed in the house by a rising vote yesterday.

Action by the house was followed by the adoption of similar legislation by the senate. The latter made a total appropriation of $13,000,000 available through amendments tacked on to the sundry civil bill.

The hospital bill passed by the house provides for erection of five regional hospitals for sick and disabled soldiers, at a cost of $2,000,000 each, and $300,000 for conversion into hospitals of buildings at Forts Wainwright, Walla, Washington and McKeen, Wyoming.

One of the senate's hospital amendments to the sundry civil bill would appropriate $12,500,000 for five new hospitals, the location to be decided by the surgeon general of the public health service and the president, and the other would provide $3,000,000 for improvements or new construction of public health service hospitals. One of the latter is at Boston.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A resolution proposing that the famous trans-Atlantic naval airplane N-G 4 find a permanent resting place in the Smithsonian Institute was introduced yesterday by Chairman Butler of the house naval committee.

Buy Farm Loan Bonds.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The treasury would be authorized to purchase $100,000,000 of bonds of the federal farm loan banks during this and the next fiscal year, under an amendment to the agriculture appropriation bill introduced yesterday by Senators Swanson and Glass, democrats of Virginia.

Senate Sustains Veto.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Wilson's veto of a bill to give title of 76 acres of swamp land in Montana to the Milk River Valley Gun Club of Montana was sustained by the senate yesterday by a vote of 17 to 2.

The bill was introduced by Senator

Myers of Montana and had twice passed the senate unanimously.

Senate to Stop Publications.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—All government publications not specifically authorized by congress would be discontinued after the first of next December under an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill adopted yesterday by the senate. A similar provision in the bill last year was eliminated as the result of a veto by President Wilson.

Put P. O. Bill Ahead of Theirs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Post-office emergency bill was put forth to the rear of the congressional legislative program yesterday by republican senate leaders who arranged to keep it on the waiting list until the annual postoffice appropriation bill is passed.

It was planned to let the postoffice measure follow the sundry civil bill. The republican leadership, however, continued in the opinion that the tariff bill probably would reach a vote late this week.

To Exempt Harding and Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The first move to exempt the salary of the president from income taxes was made in the house yesterday by Representative Dill, democrat, New York. A bill by the New York member would exempt not only the $75,000 salary of the president but also the salary of the vice president, from provisions of the income tax law.

Beginning next March 1, this president will have to pay an income tax of about $18,000 a year, unless special exemption legislation is enacted.

WILSON TO GO INTO SECLUSION MARCH 4

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—President Wilson plans to go into virtual seclusion for a time after March 4.

Freud from the responsibilities of office which have weighed heavily upon him during his convalescence, Mr. Wilson, his friends say, will shut himself in for a period of intensive rest and quiet in the new home he has purchased here.

He will deny himself to callers except immediate members of his family. It is said, and a very few intimate friends with whom throughout his illness he has kept in contact, that no formal engagements of any character are expected to be made by the president until he shall have thoroughly adjusted himself to private life after 19 years in public service. Even the writing which he has planned to do will be postponed for several months, his friends say.

For possibly six months the friends of the president believe his life will be wholly taken up with recreation. His chief diversion since his illness has been reading. He is said to have practically exhausted the field of detective stories, of which he has always been especially fond, and more recently has taken up novels and light stories. He also has given some time to reading political and historical works and poetry.

President Wilson again attended the theatre last night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and her brother, John Randolph Bolling. The president chose a musical comedy.

Mr. Wilson and his party reached the theatre about five minutes before the performance began and, aided only by a cane, walked to one of the lower boxes. The audience immediately rose and cheered loudly. The president responded by bowing.

TEACHER AND 7 PUPILS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill., Feb. 5.—Eight persons are dead and another probably fatally injured as the result of the explosion of a can of nitroglycerine at Cross Roads school, two miles west of Lawrenceville, shortly after noon yesterday.

The dead are Emmitt Bunyan, 30 years of age, teacher, and the following pupils:

Raymond Groves, 9.
Howard Lett, 7.
Thomas Lett, his brother, 12.
Charles Writton, 5.
Robert McCasland, 12.
Elmer Mellet, 10.
Richard Peters, 7.

Lester Groves, 11, a brother of Raymond Groves, is expected to die. Several other children received minor injuries in the explosion which occurred when one of the boys attempted to cut the top from the can with an axe.

Bunyan and five of the boys were killed instantly, and the other two died several hours afterward. The injured were taken to their homes and to hospitals in Vincennes, Ind.

The explosion occurred at the noon recess, when one of the boys found the can near the school.

One wall of the schoolhouse was crumpled, and Mr. Bunyan and the eight boys were hurled 50 feet in the air.

Several girls who were on the other side of the schoolhouse at the time were knocked down and stunned by the blast, but not severely hurt.

Officials of Lawrence county expressed the belief the explosive inadvertently was left by workmen in the oil fields nearby, as nitroglycerine is used in "shooting" wells.

FERTILIZER WILL GROW GRASS AND KILL WEEDS

KINGSTON, R. I., Feb. 5.—Discovery of the long sought fertilizer that will grow grass and kill weeds is announced by the experiment station of Rhode Island state college, as the result of 20 years of research. The realization of the dream of gardeners the world over, a weedless lawn, is possible without trouble or expense, according to the official college statement.

Instead of nitrate of soda in the annual application of fertilizer, and "slowly but surely the weeds will disappear and the lawn will become the even, velvety green that is the envy of every neighbor."

"Gardeners have almost universally advised supplying nitrogen, the chief element in the plant food of grass, in the form of nitrate of soda," says the statement. "This gradually tends to create an alkaline condition of the soil which is especially favorable to the growth of weeds. Soon the grass is crowded out and the lawn has an even appearance."

"By using ammonium sulphate which is not more expensive, in the same quantities as the nitrate of soda, the required amount of nitrogen is furnished and the soil kept in the acid condition under which the grass develops best, but the weeds are so weakened that they are crowded out."

"Experiments carried on at the Rhode Island state college with different lawn grasses under various methods of treatment have shown that Rhode Island bent grass, the grass that stands closest clipping for golf putting greens and fine lawns is usually quickly crowded out by coarse

How to get Big Mileage per gallon ~ even in Winter

Why many people find winter motoring expensive

Gasoline that does not vaporize readily in cold weather accounts for the low mileage per gallon and for the gasoline wasted keeping the motor running while the car stands still.

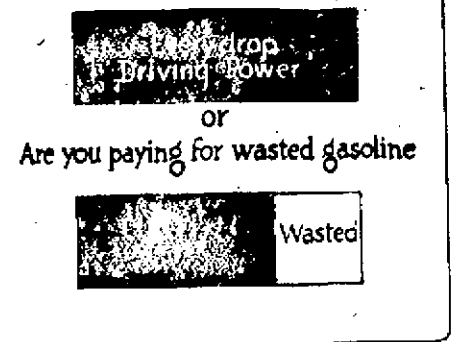

So long as you use gasoline of this sort there is no escape from these evils. You will have to use a rich, wasteful mixture. You will have trouble starting. Carbon will accumulate rapidly. Your motor will be sluggish. Your mileage-per-gallon will remain low.

How to Get Better Results at Less Cost

There is an easy way to avoid all these troubles. Use Socony Gasoline. It is a straight-distilled gasoline, and has the proper range of boiling points to insure quick ignition, easy starting, and complete combustion. You get a dry, powerful mixture, even in the coldest weather.

No Strong Odors from the Exhaust

You can use a lighter mixture, too, which means more mileage per gallon, less carbon accumulation and less dilution of the lubricating oil. When you use Socony you will note the absence of strong odors from the exhaust—smoky fumes, which are not only offensive, but,

You do not need a rich, wasteful mixture with Socony. You do not have to keep your motor running when the car is standing still on cold days. You get full value out of every ounce of explosive power in your gasoline in winter just as in summer.

are themselves an indication of carbon and other troubles in the motor.

Make This Test

Prove the actual economy of Socony—now while operating conditions are most unfavorable. Start today. Drive up to any Socony service station in New York or New England. Fill your tank with Socony motor gasoline. Use nothing but Socony for two weeks. You'll notice an improvement in the motor's behavior—and your gasoline costs won't climb up as the mercury goes down.

Reliable, Obliging Dealers

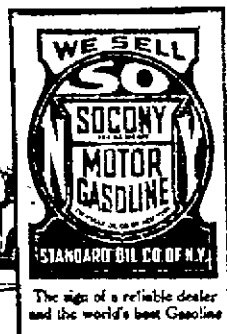

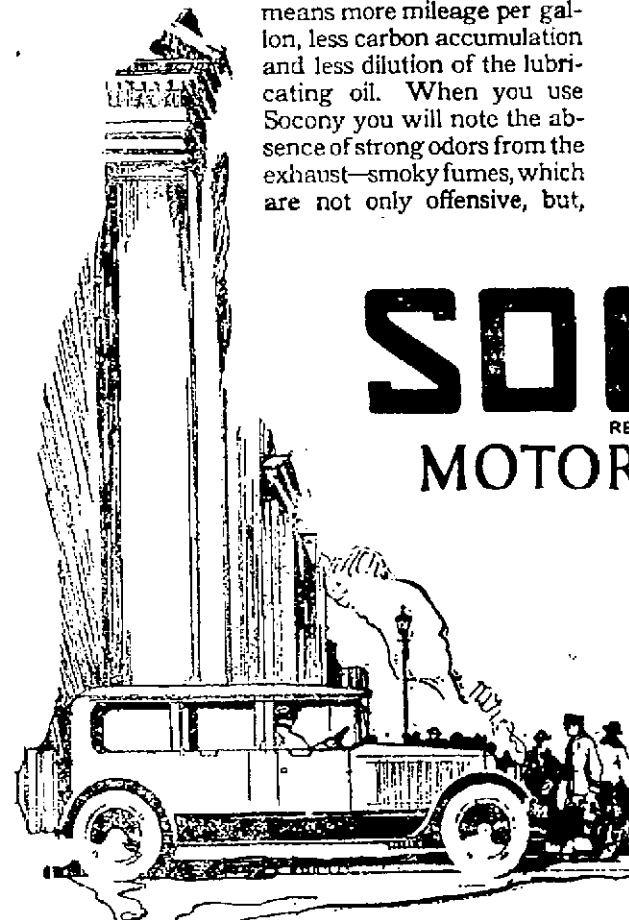

Socony dealers constitute the last link in the great chain of Socony service. They are always dependable, competent and obliging—glad to render the little courtesies that make motor service complete. Look for the red, white and blue Socony sign.

You who are Weak—
Anaemic—Nervous—
Run-down—
Remember—
You must pay your body for the work it does.

The reason you get weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down is because the vital energy of the body has been expended quicker than it has been replaced. Thus the vital energy becomes exhausted—the blood becomes impoverished—the nerves get shaky—and the vitality becomes run-down.

Remember this important fact—the body is positively unable to continue to supply vital energy, unless you give it the materials to produce vital energy. In other words, the body must be paid for the work it does.

How to restore your vital energy—enrich your blood—strengthen your nerves and promote vigor and vitality

In almost every case of weakness, anaemic, nervousness and run-down vitality, there is a real shortage in the body of several mineral elements which are positively essential to the creation of vital power. These elements are, particularly, Iron, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium, Phosphorus. All these elements are contained in Wincarnis, because Wincarnis is prepared especially for weak, anaemic nervous and run-down people. So that by taking Wincarnis when you are weak, anaemic, nervous or run-down, you supply to the body the very mineral elements it needs and, in this way, you pay the body for the work it does by supplying the materials necessary to enable the body to create vital energy—to make the blood rich and red—to strengthen the nerves—and to promote renewed vigor, vitality and endurance.

Choose the right way to health

If you are weak—if your blood is impoverished—if your nerves are shaky—if you feel depressed—if you are run-down—choose a logical way to regain health. Remember this important fact—if you are weak, anaemic, nervous or run-down, because of a shortage in the body of Iron, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium and Phosphorus, it follows that no single one alone of them will do. The body must be supplied with all of them. And because Wincarnis contains all of them in most appropriate proportions and acceptable form, Wincarnis should be your choice if you desire new strength—new rich, red blood—new nerve force and new vitality. Over 10,000 physicians have recommended Wincarnis. Your druggist has your bottle of Wincarnis ready for you. Try just one bottle.

needs. All attempts to better the soil conditions made the weeds grow faster than ever, except in the case of ammonium sulphate which helped the grass and weakened the weeds.

"Now after 20 years without any other treatment than the repeated application of the ammonium sulphate, this one plot stands out in marked contrast to all the others in the experimental. A single weed can be found, and the even green of the plot is an example of what the forest lawns can be made to be."

BOMB WARSHIPS TO TEST VALUE OF AIRCRAFT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A large warship, possibly a former German craft, is to be bombed by naval aviators within 24 days to test the value of aircraft against major surface vessels.

Admiral Coontz, chief of naval operations, announced yesterday before the house naval committee.

He said the vessel need not be more modern than the old battleship Indiana, recently subjected to somewhat similar tests with dummy bombs while at anchor in Chesapeake Bay.

Admiral Coontz reiterated his belief that the battleship was still the paramount unit of the fleet and declared that the advocates of aircraft in naval warfare had not proved their case.

He asked the committee to authorize any airplane carrier with a speed of 22 to 25 knots, capable of transporting at least eight planes each and narrow enough to go through the Panama canal, one to be stationed in the ocean.

Rear Admiral D. W. Taylor, chief naval constructor, told the committee the battleship would cost from $21,000,000 to $25,000,000 each. It would be difficult to build them under 20 months, he said.

Admiral Coontz advised against halting work on the major ships of the fleet program.

"We have waited all our lives for a navy of importance and equality," he declared. "Now when realization seems at hand this propaganda comes to prevent it. Don't stop any part of the 1916 building as far as the big ships are concerned. We can do without the 12 destroyers, six sea-going submarines and one transport already authorized but not contracted for, if necessary."

Commenting on the controversy caused by Brig General Mitchell's assertions that aircraft have made gunboats worthless, secretary of the Navy Daniels said:

"If Admiral Mitchell can't drop bombs from the air more effectively than he can explode them in committee meetings, I would take a chance on maneuvering a naval ship myself while he tried out his pet plan."

YESTERDAY MARKED CHINESE NEW YEAR

Yesterday marked the Chinese New Year, and some of Lowell's celebrities celebrated it in the time-honored way—the way which has weathered the mutations of less of centuries. There was feasting and rejoicing, and the burning of paper prayers before the altars of ancestors, and of Buddha, and of the gods of the Chinese pantheon.

But the old order changed. The upheavals of nations, which have made the 20th century a vivid one in history, have included a new dispensation even in the ancient yellow land of the Orient. The empire has gone in China, and a republic prevails. And what more natural than that the republic of the New World should be looked to as a model?

So among the modern elements in China, among the republicans, Jan. 1 has become the New Year. And many of the Chinese here in America, here in Lowell, have abandoned the traditional date, and join with their fellow inhabitants in awaiting Dec. 31st as the day preceding another anniversary in the trembling along of the planet. So hundreds of this city's Chinese population held no picturesque festivals yesterday. They had their New Year when we had ours.

There are eight million unnaturalized aliens in the United States.

POLO NOTES
 Fall River here tonight.

Frank Hardy, who acted as captain of the Lowell team up until a few days ago when he was traded to Fall River for Blount and Cusick will make his first local appearance in a Fall River lineup tonight.

The game will also mark the first appearance of Blount and Cusick against their former teammates.

Last week was certainly a hard luck week for the local team. It played away from home and dropped three games by one goal margin. While one point is as good as a dozen in the percentage column, the fact remains that a team that is able to hold the opposition to such a close score is playing pretty fair polo. In the three games that Lowell lost during the week the team was weakened by an injury to Red Williams. He was in a collision with his brother at Providence Thursday night and as a result Lowell lost by one goal. On Friday night he played back again, but he was again injured. Again Saturday night at New Bedford he was able to play but part of the game. With Red in his usual form Lowell would have probably won two of the three that were lost.

Better luck tonight.

JACK BRITTON RETAINS

WELTER TITLE

NEW YORK, February 5.—Jack Britton, world's welterweight champion, defeated Ted Lewis, who claims the English championship, in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night. The judges agreed on Britton as the winner.

Lewis made a good showing, but was outclassed.

The bout weighed in at 115 pounds. Britton weighed 115, Lewis 114. Both were in excellent condition. Lewis had the better of the exchanges in the first two rounds, during which both contestants battled with their tongues as well as with their gloves. Britton protested against Lewis having a rubber protector in his mouth, but the referee ruled against him.

When the bell had separated the men at the end of the second round someone in Lewis' corner shouted at Britton, who turned quickly and rushed toward Lewis, cornering him. Britton's glove right hand into the face of Charles Harvey, Lewis' manager. Lewis took a swing at Britton almost at the same time as it looked for a moment as if there was going to be a free-for-all in the corner.

Referee Dick Nugent of Buffalo stepped toward the men and decided that Lewis and a right to wear the rubber guard and there was no more quibbling on this point.

From the beginning of the third round the champion got his clever left hand working in good shape and he kept jabbing and hooking it provocatively into Lewis' face, occasionally mixing these blows with rights to the head or to the stomach.

Lewis seemed unable to avoid Britton's jabbing left hand in every round. He knocked out the 10th ball with a right swing to Britton's head. This round was about even, and with the conclusion of the fight Britton had the honors in all the others.

STRIKES AND STARES

Hazel was hitting them Saturday night against Higgins.

The man that will sell the box for 10 cents is a poor sport.

Edridge has recovered from the effects of a sore arm.

Why not put the scores in the paper like the other leagues do?

Thursday night is the big night for Higgins and Dolly Gray against Maguire and Lyness in a 10-string match. Watch for it!

The Cloth Hall stars are in for some more action when they roll the card room five.

Arthur has something in store for the card room at the next game.

The Yard team is the only team that spreads terror.

"Tuesday" as they call him, can certainly root when Dolly Gray is hitting them good.

Four more weeks and then comes the banquet. Everybody is getting hungry.

The Cloth Hall has yet a chance to go higher in the standing according to Seaman.

IMPORT CREWS TO RUN CARS

Resumption of Service Marked by Rioting in Troy—Strike Breaker May Die

Car Derailed and Wrecked, Wire Cut, Strike-Breakers Beaten

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Resumption of street car service by imported crews on the lines of the United Traction Co., in Albany and Troy today was accompanied by rioting in Troy where five strike breakers were injured, one perhaps fatally. Police in Troy this afternoon resorted to firing shots in the air to disperse a mob bent on preventing movement of cars at Franklin square.

The trouble in Troy started when a repair wagon was uniting a trolley wire that had been cut by strike sympathizers. The strikers refused to recognize one of the repairmen as a strike breaker who had told them that he deserted from the company's employ and had obtained from the strikers enough money to pay his fare back to New York. A policeman who was asked to arrest the man as a swindler

MAYOR HOLDS REINS TIGHT

Prevents Clashes at Hearing on Granting of License for Packing House

Large Crowd Hears Objections to Proposed Plant by Many Opponents

Thomas H. Braden Picked as Election Commissioner After Close of Hearing

Only a tight rein, held by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, prevented the hearing on the granting of a license to Bartholomew Scannell to operate the Harvard company plant as a packing house, from becoming a lively exhibition of the power of oratory and debate possessed by some of the members of the crowd of several hundred persons gathered in the aldermanic chamber in city hall today. Both opponents and those in favor of granting the petition were well represented, although the former were more numerous.

A number of the speakers wished to interrogate members of the council as to their attitude regarding the matter, and it was charged that members were in a league with those behind the new industry to force it upon the city. The mayor was several times compelled to inform speakers for information that the council members were not present to give out but to acquire information.

There was also a disposition shown by some of the speakers to try to get others involved in debate. All of these attempts the mayor promptly sat upon. At the close of the hearing the council elected by a vote of four to one, Thomas H. Braden as an election commissioner for a four year term. The only vote adverse to Mr. Braden was cast by the mayor in favor of Abel R. Campbell.

James J. Kerwin appeared for the petitioners and gave a detailed statement of what the new company proposes to do at the Harvard plant, and said that it at any time the place proved a nuisance its license would be revoked. When objectors to the granting of the license were called upon to speak, John Gray, who said he lived within 50 feet of the plant, came to the front. He said if anyone attempted to establish a slaughter house there would be a riot. He objected to the council taking part in promoting a real estate gamble. He denied that more than 300 or 400 men would be employed. "I'll stop at nothing to stop that slaughter house," he said. "Why don't the men who are to operate this slaughter house come in here and make themselves known? They don't dare to know them. If the council grants the license I shall appeal to a higher power."

Jas. Norton, the next speaker, said

CRASH STIRS CITY HALL

Liquid, Smelling Like Whiskey, Spilled and Telephone Booth Partially Wrecked

The lightnings that flashed at the hearing held this morning in city hall on the proposition to grant a license for the operation of a packing house at the Harvard company plant had nearly cleared from the sky when things began to happen elsewhere about the building. In one of the rooms near the aldermanic chamber there was a sound of crashing glass. It was of two kinds. One kind was bottle glassware. Its breaking spilled upon the floor a liquid that some of the city hall attaches who rushed the scene, declared smelled like whiskey. An official of long experience at the hall sniffed the odor and, after admitting that in the bygone days of the long ago he had tasted a similar beverage, boldly proclaimed that it was whiskey. Some of the onlookers, viewing the wasting of the precious substance, departed with tears in their eyes. The other glass that was broken was part of the enclosure of a telephone booth. The individual whose uncertain steps brought about the breaking of the bottle attempted to navigate into the booth. The small enclosure was scarcely large enough to hold the holder of so much liquid enthusiasm. Therefore, bingo, went one of the sides.

Then there was a general mixup with a number of persons telling the intruder that he should not further desecrate the sacred precincts of the hall with his presence, and that it would be better for him to make his exit peacefully and thus save annoyance. Finally the brawny frame and undaunted front of brave Dan Lane, the city hall cop, was seen looming in the doorway. Not without difficulty was the stranger escorted to the exit. He said that he had a mission to perform before he left, and that was to convey his congratulations to a city hall official on the honesty and integrity that he had displayed in giving the speaker a chance to earn his bread and butter by laboring for the city.

Out into Merrimack street finally went the stranger, and Dan Lane retired to his ordinary duties of guarding the city hall from assault. The fates had not decreed, however, that today should be without more than its due share of trouble for him. Sarcely had he wiped his fevered brow and adjusted his clothing when the man who had once had the liquid that smelled suspiciously like whiskey returned with the demand that the man who had stolen his bottle should be promptly apprehended and punished for heinous crime. He still had ambitions to deliver his undelivered speech of congratulations.

"Out you go again," said Dan Lane and out he went. The latest reports are that he has not returned, but upon being put out the second time he turned to the officer and said: "Remember, Dan, it's a long lane that has no turn."

HITS BACK AT CITY SOLICITOR

Auditor in Classic Language, Refutes Charge of Ignorance of Grammar

Wants Interests of the City Properly Protected in Kimball Company Case

Says No Municipal Body Can Legalize Payment of An Improper Bill

Delving deep into the lore of the ages, quoting freely from the Latin authors and the classics, reproducing learned citations of the law, City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy today sent a letter to the mayor refuting the charges made yesterday in an episode from City Solicitor Regan that Hennessy's grammar is not flawless and that his legal knowledge is limited. The letter is part of a controversy that is going on between the auditor and solicitor over the payment of a bill for $6000 alleged to be due by the city to the Kimball company, of Boston, for work claimed to have been performed in connection with a contract for installing a heating plant in the new high school. The city solicitor claims that the high school commission has sole power to authorize payment of the bill. The auditor asserts that as the city of Lowell is named as defendant in a suit for the payment of the account, the matter is in the hands of the municipal council, and that neither the council nor the commission has the power to authorize the payment of an improper bill.

Following, in substance, is Mr. Hennessy's letter with some of the Latin phrases omitted.

Yours, with enclosure, of even date herewith was duly received and in reply the city auditor desires to say that he is thankful for the prompt transmission of the very illuminating dissertation upon municipal law, legal procedure, legal municipal conduct and various other things contained in the letter of Your Honor, from the very learned city solicitor.

The contents of the letter are truly no cause for surprise to the city auditor since he is assured that the copious words have dropped from the countless lips of the putative head of the law department of the city of Lowell, who seems to have regaled himself in the garden of him, who says: "I am Sir Oracle, and when I open my mouth let no dog bark."

Yet, withal, it seems to me, that there is contained among the various things recited in the incongruous document, the pronouncement of a very

GHOULISH ENTRY INTO GRAVE OF EVERETT GIRL

MALDEN, Feb. 8.—A ghoulish entry to the fresh grave of Katherine V. Brown of Everett, a 17-year-old girl, who died a few days ago of sleeping sickness, and was buried at the Holy Cross cemetery here, yesterday, was disclosed today. The invaders came in the night, dug into the new grave to a depth of four feet before they uncovered the coffin, tore open the upper cover, and apparently attempted to drag the girl's body out. It was found with head and shoulders out of the opening apparently wedged in such manner that those who were responsible for the attempt were unable to extricate it. Footprints in the snow that had fallen overnight, led across the cemetery to the road where they were lost.

BRIDGE OVER HUDSON
R. R. Structure Would Relieve Congestion at Albany
Gateway to New England

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—A bill was passed late yesterday by the house authorizing the construction of a railroad bridge across the Hudson at Castleton, N. Y. The bill had previously been passed by the senate and now goes to the president. The bridge would relieve congestion at the Albany gateway into New England.

MAY RENDER "REQUIEM" AT DEDICATION

That a rendering of Verdi's "Requiem" shall be a part of the dedication exercises of the new Auditorium was suggested in a letter received from Arthur C. Spaulding, president of the Lowell Choral Society, at a meeting of the Memorial Building Commission held in city hall yesterday. Mayor Perry D. Thompson, C. H. Nelson and Secretary Arthur C. Spaulding were present at the meeting. Mr. Spaulding in his letter said that the society would be glad to undertake to produce the "Requiem" if it could be guaranteed against a financial loss. He also stated that, if the offer were accepted, it would be desirable to begin preparations this spring.

ORDERS ARREST OF
UNION OFFICIALS

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 8.—District Judge Curran today issued attachment for the immediate arrest of Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Coal Miners, and for all the members of the district executive board of the union.

The order for the arrest of the union officials was made on application of State Atty. Gen. Hopkins.

Howat was arrested yesterday and immediately taken into the district courtroom and arraigned before Judge Curran. He admitted he had called the strike.

"Whether it is a violation of the court order for the court to say," Howat added.

Vice President Dorothy, brought into court with Howat, simply said "I am guilty."

Willard Titus, a board member, also was held before the judge. Cases against other board members were dismissed.

Howat, Dorothy and Titus were then released on their own recognizance and ordered to appear in court this afternoon.

Judge Curran set 1:30 o'clock this afternoon as the hour for the three to file a written answer, if they desired.

The court action is the result of a strike in two mines of the Pittsburgh field, which resulted from a controversy of the miners' union with the mine owners over the age of a miner.

The attorney general contended that the strike was in violation of the injunction issued last summer by Judge Curran, and that therefore the miners' officials were in contempt of court. It was asserted that the nature of the strike was in the nature of a test of strength between the Howat forces and the Kansas industrial court.

Lowell Woman Was So Run
Down She Had to Give Up
All Idea of Work—Tanlac
Again Proves Merit

"I now know for myself that Tanlac is wonderful for I have tried it and it has made me feel just like a new person," said Mrs. M. L. Higgins, 35 Lagrange street, Lowell.

"For the past year I have been in a badly rundown condition. My appetite left me and my stomach got so bad I could scarcely retain anything. I would vomit up anything I ate and have such bad spells of heart palpitation. I couldn't work up a night of sleep without being out of breath. I was so nervous I scarcely slept any and the least noise completely upset me. I suffered so with dizziness I couldn't stoop to pick up anything without fainting away. I had almost constant headaches, and the pains in my back, shoulders and sides almost drove me distracted, and I was tired and worn out all the time. In spite of all I could do I kept getting worse and got to where I had to give up all idea of work.

"My sister-in-law in Manchester, who had been relieved of the same kind of troubles by Tanlac, advised me to try it. Well, I have just finished my fourth bottle now and my appetite is splendid. I eat everything I want and it does not hurt me one bit. All my pains are gone, my nerves are perfectly calm and I sleep like a child and actually believe I feel better than I did before my troubles started. Tanlac is certainly wonderful medicine."

USE AIRPLANES TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Disappearance of all the forests in the United States within half a century was predicted in an address here last night by Harris A. Reynolds, secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry association, who has been touring the timberlands of the country for three years.

He suggested that forest fire fighters use airplanes and drop chemical bombs to extinguish flames. By this method, he said, an additional 20 years might be added to the life of the woods.

FIRE COMPANIES ORGANIZED

Two fire companies were recently organized in North Chelmsford for the purpose of affording better fire protection for that section of the town, the membership of both companies being as follows: Company No. 1, Henry Elliott, captain; George W. Marlett, first lieutenant; John Buchanan, second lieutenant; James Kibberd, Jr., Geo. Gaudette, Donald Callahan, Alec Callahan, Joseph Gervais, Joe Gagnon and James Nolan. Company No. 2, John Dunnigan, captain; Leo Pope, first lieutenant; Sidney Cooper, Martin Brick, John Haffey, Leo Ryan, Leo McNaney, Bernard Pope and John Larkin.

It was decided that in the event of an outbreak of fire immediate connection should be made with the following by telephone: Joseph D. Ryan, 5315-W; George Shepherd, 8751; John Dunnigan, 4191-J; Henry Elliott, 6155; George W. Marlett, 4123-J; George Welch, 5315-R; James Kibberd, 1935-W. In the case of forest fires, George Shepherd should be immediately notified.

"DOLLAR DAY" TO SAVE BODY AGAIN EXHUMED

CASH FOR BUYERS

Poor Richard, who was a wise man and philosopher of Massachusetts birth, coined many maxims of economy. The truth of one of them—that "a dollar saved is a dollar earned"—the people of Lowell are to have an exceptional opportunity to demonstrate next Saturday.

It is to be Dollar Day, and the stores that carry the official signs of the day in their show windows are to enter into a marathon race in price-cutting. Such a carnival of value giving, it is promised, has never been seen in this part of the country is to feature the occasion.

Every merchant is out to see how far he can outdo his neighbors in selling merchandise at prices that are likely to be long remembered in the business annals of Lowell.

Not only are the merchants to try to outdo each other in giving more for a dollar than had ever been given before, but they have prepared to have their stocks unusually full and attractive. Such an influx of buyers is expected that shopping should begin early, as with the crowds that are expected even the largest stocks may become depleted late in the day.

The merchants, too, are preparing to have their stores wear their prettiest aspect, and a visit to them just for the sake of seeing the attractive displays will be well worth while.

Widow Believes Richard S. Lawrence, Former Political Leader, Victim of Foul Play

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—The body of Richard Scott Lawrence, former Denver political leader and later a resident of Madison, who is said to have been killed by a train on March 21, 1918, has been exhumed for the fourth time under the direction of Coroner Campbell. At the medical laboratory of the University of Wisconsin, a pathological examination was begun today.

The exhumation is the first step in an investigation being conducted by District Attorney S. G. Lewis, in response to allegations of the widow, Mrs. Rachel Lawrence, who declares that her husband was not killed by a train but that his body was substituted in the vault at the cemetery for the mangled remains of an unidentified man who was presumed to be her husband at the burial.

She says that her husband was wealthy and estimates that his money fund should have been sufficient to support her and her children for the rest of their lives. It is said Lawrence carried with him a collection of diamonds worth many thousands of dollars, and these were missing when his body was buried.

TO GIVE CHANCE, BUT NOT CHARITY

"Not charity, but a chance" is the motto of the Lowell Good Will Industries that is undertaking a work of philanthropy for the people of the city in the Brookings street settlement house. The work is associated with that being done in numerous other cities by the Morgan Memorial in Boston. The starting of the work is due to the efforts of the Central Methodist Episcopal church.

The organization is soon to place desks in the homes of the city in which can be placed the many articles that commonly go into the rag-bag or the waste basket. Out of these the industries will manufacture many articles of value.

MILLIONS VOTED FOR SOLDIERS MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Called up under suspension of rules, a resolution which required a two-thirds vote for passage, the $12,000,000 Soldiers' monument bill was passed in the house by a rising vote yesterday.

Action by the house was followed by the adoption of similar legislation by the senate. The latter made a total appropriation of $12,000,000 available through amendments tacked on to the sundry civil bill.

The hospital bill passed by the house provides for erection of five regional hospitals for sick and disabled soldiers, at a cost of $2,500,000 each, and $500,000 for conversion into hospitals of buildings at Forts Wally, Walls, Washington and McKenzie, Wyoming.

One of the senate's proposed amendments to the sundry civil bill would appropriate $2,500,000 for five new hospitals, the location to be decided by the surgeon general of the public health service and the president, and the other would provide $5,000,000 for the care of disabled veterans through improvements or new construction of public health service hospitals. One of the latter is at Boston.

You who are Weak—Anaemic—Nervous—Run-down—Remember—

You must pay your body for the work it does

The reason you get weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down is because the vital energy of the body has been expended quicker than it has been replaced. Thus the vital energy becomes exhausted—the blood becomes impoverished—the nerves get shaky—and the vitality becomes run-down.

Remember this important fact—the body is positively unable to continue to supply vital energy, unless you give it the materials to produce vital energy. In other words, the body must be paid for the work it does.

How to restore your vital energy—enrich your blood—strengthen your nerves and promote vigor and vitality

In almost every case of weakness, anaemia, nervousness and run-down vitality, there is a real shortage in the body of several mineral elements which are positively essential to the creation of vital power. These elements are, particularly, Iron, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium, Phosphorus. All these elements are contained in Wincarnis, because Wincarnis is prepared especially for weak, anaemic nervous and run-down people. So that by taking Wincarnis when you are weak, anaemic, nervous or run-down, you supply to the body the very mineral elements it needs and, in this way, you pay the body for the work it does by supplying the materials necessary to enable the body to create vital energy—to make the blood rich and red—to strengthen the nerves—and to promote renewed vigor, vitality and endurance.

Choose the right way to health

If you are weak—if your blood is impoverished—if your nerves are shaky—if you feel depressed—if you are run-down—choose a logical way to regain health. Remember this important fact—if you are weak, anaemic, nervous or run-down, because of a shortage in the body of Iron, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium and Phosphorus, it follows that no single one alone of these will do. The body must be supplied with all of them.

And because Wincarnis contains all of them in most appropriate proportions and acceptable form, Wincarnis should be your choice if you desire new strength—new rich, red blood—new nerve force and new vitality. Over 10,000 physicians have recommended Wincarnis. Your druggist has your bottle of Wincarnis ready for you. Try just one bottle.

TEACHER AND 7 PUPILS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill., Feb. 8.—Eight persons are dead and another probably fatally injured as the result of the explosion of a can of nitroglycerine at Cross Roads school, two miles west of Lawrenceville, shortly after noon yesterday.

The dead are Emmitt Bunyan, 30 years of age, teacher, and the following pupils:

Raymond Graves, 9.
Howard Lett, 7.
Thomas Lett, his brother, 12.
Charles Walton, 5.
Robert McCausland, 12.
Elmer Mellet, 10.
Richard Peters, 7.

Leiter Graves, 11, a brother of Raymond Graves, is expected to die. Several other children received minor injuries in the explosion which occurred when one of the boys attempted to cut the top from the can with an ax.

Bunyan and five of the boys were killed instantly, and the other two died several hours afterward. The injured were taken to their homes and to hospitals in Vincennes, Ind.

The explosion occurred at the noon recess, when one of the boys found the can near the school.

One wall of the schoolhouse was crumbled, and Mr. Bunyan and the eight boys were hurled 50 feet in the air.

Several girls who were on the other side of the schoolhouse at the time were knocked down and stunned by the blast, but not severely hurt.

Officials of Lawrence county expressed the belief the explosive inadvertently was left by workmen in the oil fields nearby, as nitroglycerine is used in "shooting" wells.

FERTILIZER WILL GROW GRASS AND KILL WEEDS

KINGSTON, R. I., Feb. 8.—Discovery of the long sought fertilizer that will grow grass and kill weeds is announced by the experiment station of Rhode Island state college, as the result of 20 years of research. The realization of the dream of gardeners the world over, a weedless lawn, is possible without trouble or expense, according to the official college statement.

Merely by the use of ammonium sulphate instead of nitrate of soda in the annual application of fertilizer, and "slowly but surely the weeds will disappear and the lawn will become the even, velvety green that is the envy of every neighbor."

"Gardeners have almost universally advised supplying nitrogen, the chief element in the plant food of grass, in the form of nitrate of soda," says the statement. "This gradually tends to create an alkaline condition of the soil which is especially favorable to the growth of weeds. Soon the grass is crowded out and the lawn has an even appearance."

"By using ammonium sulphate which is not more expensive, in the same quantities as the nitrate of soda, the required amount of nitrogen is furnished and the soil kept in the acid condition under which the grass develops best, but the weeds are so weakened that they are crowded out."

"Experiments carried on at the Rhode Island state college with different lawn grasses under various methods of treatment have shown that Rhode Island bent grass, the grass that stands closest clipping for golf putting greens and fine lawns is usually quickly crowded out by course

Why many people find winter motoring expensive

Gasoline that does not vaporize readily in cold weather accounts for the low mileage per gallon and for the gasoline wasted keeping the motor running while the car stands still.

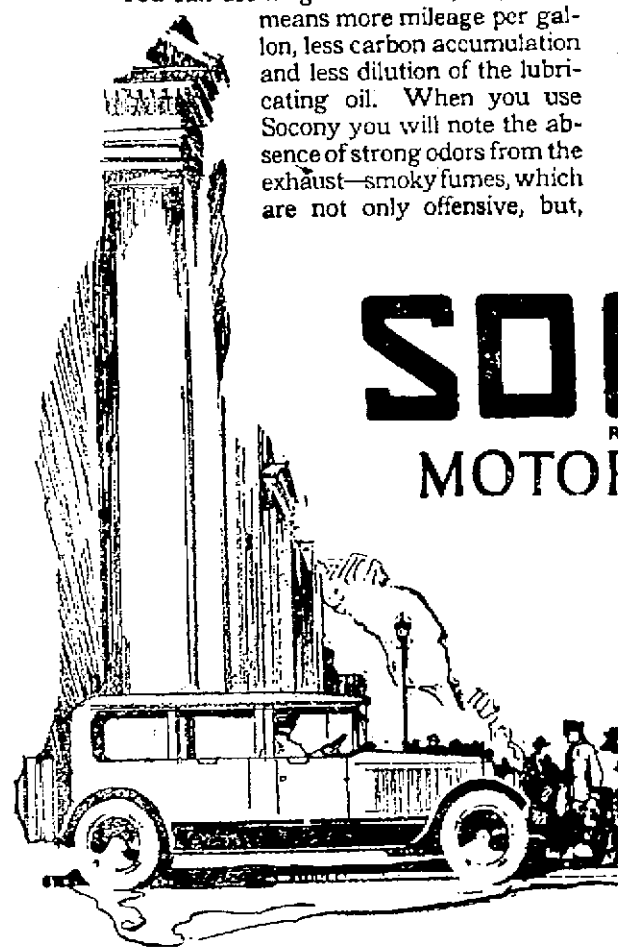

So long as you use gasoline of this sort there is no escape from these evils. You will have to use a rich, wasteful mixture. You will have trouble starting. Carbon will accumulate rapidly. Your motor will be sluggish. Your mileage-per-gallon will remain low.

How to Get Better Results at Less Cost

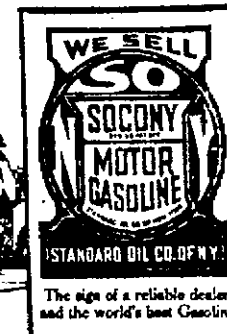

There is an easy way to avoid all these troubles. Use Socony Gasoline. It is a straight-distilled gasoline, and has the proper range of boiling points to insure quick ignition, easy starting, and complete combustion. You get a dry, powerful mixture, even in the coldest weather.

No Strong Odors from the Exhaust

You can use a lighter mixture, too, which means more mileage per gallon, less carbon accumulation and less dilution of the lubricating oil. When you use Socony you will note the absence of strong odors from the exhaust—smoky fumes, which are not only offensive, but, weeds. All attempts to better the soil conditions made the weeds grow faster than ever, except in the case of ammonium sulphate which helped to gas and weakened the weeds.

Now after 20 years without any other treatment than the repeated applications of the ammonium sulphate, this one plot stands out in marked contrast to all the others in the experiment. Scarcely a weed can be found, and the even green of the plot is an example of what the finest lawn can be easily be.

EVERY THIRD WALK
A new rule has gone into effect in London ballrooms. It is—"Every third dance a walk."

Despite the beauty of many of the modern dances they require the aid of expert teachers in the mastering.

The new English order of things is designed to give a chance to the older but still young, generation of men and women who loved to dance as boys and girls, but whose later life has been too full to learn the more intricate steps of the "fox trot," "one step," "cat walk" and their many variations.

BOMB WARSHIPS TO TEST VALUE OF AIRCRAFT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—A large warship, possibly a former German craft, is to be bombed by naval aviators within 50 days to test the value of aircraft against major surface vessels.

Admiral Countz, chief of naval operations, announced yesterday before the house naval committee.

He said the vessel used would be more modern than the old battleship Indiana, recently subjected to somewhat similar tests with dummy bombs while at anchor in Chesapeake Bay.

Admiral Countz reiterated his belief that the battleship was still the paramount unit of the fleet and declared that the advocates of aircraft in naval warfare had not proved their case.

He asked the committee to authorize two airplane carriers with a speed of 32 to 35 knots, capable of transporting at least eight planes each and narrow enough to go through the Panama canal, one to be stationed in each ocean.

Rear Admiral D. W. Taylor, chief naval constructor, told the committee the carriers would cost from $21,000,000 to $25,000,000 each. It would be difficult to build them under 20 months, he said.

Admiral Countz advised against building work on the major ships of the fleet program.

"We have waited all our lives for a navy of importance and equality," he declared. "Now when realization seems at hand this propaganda comes to prevent it. Don't stop any part of the 1915 building as far as the big ships are concerned. We can do without the 12 destroyers, six sea-going submarines and one transport already authorized but not contracted for, if necessary."

two meetings, I would take a chance on maneuvering a battleship myself while he tried out his pet plan."

YESTERDAY MARKED CHINESE NEW YEAR

Yesterday marked the Chinese New Year, and some of Lowell's celebrities celebrated it in the time-honored way—the way which has weathered the mutations of tens of centuries. There was feasting and rejoicing, and the burning of paper prayers before the shrines of ancestors, and of Buddha and Confucius, lovers of mankind.

But the old order changed. The upheavals of nations which have made the 20th century a vivid one in history, have included a new dispensation even to the ancient yellow land of the Orient. The empire has gone in China, and a republic prevails. And what more natural than that the republic of the New World should be looked to as a model?

So among the modern elements in China, among the republicans, Jan. 1 has become the New Year. And many of the Chinese here in America, here in Lowell, have abandoned the traditional date, and join with their fellow inhabitants in awaiting Dec. 31st as the day preceding another anniversary in the trundling along of the planet. So numbers of this city's Chinese population held no picturesque festivals yesterday. They had their New Year when we had ours.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barlow

"THE PELICA."

Once again the twins were ready to continue their journey to the South pole. They were on a little ice island floating about in the ocean, but the Fairy Queen was beside them and besides they had found their Magic Green Shoes, so they were in no danger. Nick looked at his map. "We had better be starting, Nancy," he reminded her. "We lost so much time while we were prisoners of the wicked Jinn that we'll have to hurry to make up for it."

"PUT THESE CHILDREN SAFELY AWAY IN YOUR BEAK," SAID THE FAIRY QUEEN TO THE PELICA.

"I think," said the Fairy Queen, "that you would better be extra careful, children, for the nearer you get to the pole, the more determined the Jinn will be to prevent you from getting there. He and Snitcher-Snatch, the wicked fairy who stole the toys and the greatest of friends, and sometimes even my power cannot protect you. But I can help you now to get to land, at least. If you will wish yourselves

The pelican promised and tucked Nancy and Nick safely into his bill, pouch where they fitted quite nicely. Then away he flew. The ice island upon which they had been standing, and the Fairy Queen vanished in a twinkling. Far away, the bird with the little boy and girl in his beak was a mere speck in the sky. Once again the twins were on their travels. (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

WASHINGTON COUNCIL HOLDS BIG MEETING

The semi-monthly meeting of the George Washington Council of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic was held in the Sacred Heart school hall last evening and it proved to be one of the most interesting and enthusiastic of the season. Vocal solos were given by Miss Helen Wilson and Edward Donohoe, while violin and piano duets were played by Misses Margaret and Frances Goggin.

George Brennan presided and introduced the speakers. William McCollough, a young attorney of the parish, gave an illuminating address on the shipping problem and its effect on the Irish situation. Joseph P. Quinn spoke on the growth of Sinn Féin on the new Ireland, and explained its progress particularly from 1916 to the present time. He told of the great leaders that directed the organization and paid a glowing tribute to Pierce, McDonough, Connelly and others who took part in the Easter Rebellion. He also read many of the poems written by Pierce. In conclusion he touched upon the present able leaders in the movement for recognition of the Irish republic. His remarks were listened to with marked attention. On February 21, the eve of Washington's birthday, the council will hold especially appropriate exercises and the principal speaker at the meeting will be Cornelius J. O'Neill. At the following meeting, two weeks later, Patrick J. Reynolds will be the speaker.

OPERA HOUSE:

Scenic pictures of more than usual beauty of the Norwegian fjords, a plunging waterfall and the flaming sun shining on the rocks and snow are features of the presentation of "Thelma," a dramatization by Chas. W. Chase of a story by Marie Corelli, which is being presented by the Lowell players at the Opera House this week. The plot is of the old melodrama kind, dealing in part with the abnormal in human psychology that is expected to come from the pen of Marie Corelli. In some of the lines the dramatizer has caught with remarkable faithfulness the spirit of the author, and in many places there is the lofty diction and poetry of the original.

The story deals with the fortunes of Thelma, a daughter of the Northland, and a wealthy young Englishman who falls in love with her. There are other and picturesque adventures of the girl; among them a dwarf, who plunges to death at the base of the waterfall, and a repulsive clergyman.

Northland maiden and Englishman are married, at the end of a pretty love affair, and go to make their home in the land of the Northland. "nifty" should be high enough praise. However, to dissect it, it may be said that a component part of the turn are our old friends, the song and the dance, plus, of course, chatter. A 30 foot pole is the medium employed by Evans and Perez to give their audience the perils of the high wire. The team, Topics of the Day were unboxed, and the news weekly again gave proof that it deserves a headline position.

THE STRAND THEATRE
"Cinderella's Twin." "One Hour Before Dawn," an enjoyable Pathe comedy and a series of interesting and instructive current events constitute the bill at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. This bill is one of the best shown at the Strand in a long time as far as variety is concerned and should be appreciated by the many patrons of this popular house.

"Cinderella's Twin" features Viola Dana, a favorite star in the title role. It deals with a handsome housewife, who sees the photograph of a man in a magazine and later dreams of him. Suddenly this same man is brought into the house where she is employed and sometime later she has a chance to be in his company at a fashionable ball, where she has gained admittance through the assistance of a band of crooks. When Cinderella leaves the place like the original Cinderella, she leaves a slipper by her hurried flight, and this slipper holds a key to a safe deposit box filled with stolen jewelry. A theft is committed at the ball, which was attended by Cinderella, and her "prince" is accused of the theft, but the slipper solves the problem.

J. B. Warner holds the principal role in "One Hour Before Dawn," and he handles his part as only an actor can. The story is a thrilling adaptation of Mansfield Scott's novel, "Behind the Curtain," and is interesting throughout. It deals with the power of a hypnotist, who commands a young man to kill another "one hour before dawn." The slain victim is found in his bed the next morning, and the complications follow as to the author of the crime. Circumstantial evidence points to the party who has been hypnotized, but through the efforts of a detective the mystery of the cold blooded murder is solved. Good bill—we'll say.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Monte Blue, who is fast becoming one of the leading stars on the screen, presents a remarkable portrait by his portrayal of the role of Bill George, the country school teacher, in George Melford's production of "The Jinkles," which is the star attraction for the first three days of the week.

Portraying "Signor Monti" in this comedy, "The Jinkles," Carter DeLia stands forth as one of the best and funniest comedians of the screen. He is ably supported by Mrs. DeLia in the role of "Blanche Hawkins" for the week.

CITY MUST PROVIDE A PARADE GROUND

A parade ground for units of the national guard must be provided by the city of Lowell on pain of forfeiture of $5000 a year, according to a letter received by Mayor Derry D. Thompson from Capt. W. C. MacBryden of Battery B. The letter states that the requirement is in accordance with the laws of the state. Capt. MacBryden states that his attention has been called to the failure of the city to provide a suitable drill and parade ground by the state adjutant general. He asks the state to give the city notice that he is not given the honorarium which is paid to the municipal council. He says that state officers, who have recently inspected the rifle range maintained by the city in Dracut have pronounced it "the best in the state."

LISTED AS "SLACKERS"

Many Bear Unjust Slighter Because of Failure to Notify Draft Board of Their Enlistment
BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Through failure to notify draft boards of their enlistment, hundreds of service men in this state have come on the records of the adjutant general at Washington as "slackers," according to a report received at American Legion headquarters here. To avoid the humiliation attaching to the unjust stigma, all former soldiers who are at all doubtful about their present status are urged to send copies of their war records to the army authorities.

WOMAN ROUTS ARMED THUG

MAIDEN, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Doris Polk, 21, wife of Roy A. Polk, had a nerve-racking experience yesterday afternoon with a young man, who forced his way into her apartment on the second floor of the block, 493 Main street, ordered her to throw up her hands at the point of a revolver and then grappled with her for nearly 10 minutes.

He attempted to drag her from the dining-room, where she had been sewing, into an adjoining bedroom, where her 8-months-old son, Charles, lay sleeping, but she fought him off and finally squirmed from his grasp. Her screams frightened him, and he fled from the house when she had freed herself. Although Mrs. Polk gave an early alarm, the police have been unable to find any trace of the intruder.

A HOME-MADE GRAY HAIR REMEDY

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—Adv.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle it little by little on the face, rub over the blackheads, brush the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, white blackheads, no matter where they are, simply wash out any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and dirt in the pores of the skin—punching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomel simply dissolves the blackheads so they wash right out. Having the pores free and clean, and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Referring to recent suggestions regarding the transfer of a British colony to the United States, the newspaper said: "That expedient is out of the question. The officers testified that after watching the resort it was found that Pentie carried the booze on his hip, and that when a customer arrived he produced the bottle and poured the drink while Peltier collected the stipend. The bottle, after the drink was served, returned to Pentte's pocket. This method left the establishment safe in the event of a search.

Officer Kivian stated that after observation had been made that the ingenious system, he approached Pentte and asked him to come across. Pentte immediately disgorged the bottle he was totting, which proved to contain Canadian high wine.

Questioned, he had no expected to come to Lovell as a warehouse. "I said," declared Lieutenant Pentte, "when you got to Victoria you knew it wasn't a warehouse, was it?" He replied that he did. When he knew it was liquor he was taking out of the house. "He said that at first he didn't know that before it was loaded on to the truck."

"I saw," Officer Kivian told me, "you knew you had to take that liquor." He answered that he didn't know, but that he offered $200 to make the trip. He would have taken the house if he had told him to.

"I questioned him about the liquor out of the cellar," he added. "It wasn't in the cellar, that's what I told him. He said that there was a cellar door."

"The liquor," he continued, "was in the cellar."
